/ STRATEGIC LENS

WHO

People with more appetite than time.

A FRESH RECIPE FOR FROZEN

HOW

Distinctive, cravable frozen meals with standards that stand up to scrutiny.

WHERE

The frozen food aisle to the final bite.

WE MAKE AMERICAN FOOD

COOKT is an American brand where distinct dishes belong together without giving up who they are. Cultural specificity isn't decoration; it deepens the food. "We make American Food" works as a storytelling expression. American food, honestly shared, has always been different cultures in conversation, arriving at the table as themselves.

BRAND STORY

We don't have time.

Not the kind a good meal used to require. So we made a deal with convenience – and mostly, convenience made us regret it.

You know the deal. Something pasty. Something sad. Something that tastes like the box it came in and nothing like the restaurant-quality meal it claimed to be.

So the freezer aisle ends up with two options: food that gave up, or food that's pretending.

We think there's another option.
Frozen isn't the problem. Impersonation is.

At COOKT we know what we are. We're frozen food. We're not apologizing for the freezer or hiding the microwave. The freezer and the microwave are part of how the meal gets to you, and we got exceptionally good at that whole journey.

Start at the last bite. Work backward. Every recipe choice, every sauce, every cut – designed so the dish still tastes like the dish when it hits your table on a Tuesday night after work ran late. Again.

Because a dish that travels this far deserves to arrive authentically.

And every dish worth eating in this country has been on a journey as well – carried here by people, adapted by generations, arriving at the American table true to itself.

That's what we make. American food. Distinct dishes that keep their identities. Real flavors, not impersonations of them. Halal certified. Sourcing verified. All from a quick stroll down the freezer aisle.

COOKT. A fresh recipe for frozen.

FUNDAMENTALS

Four things the system must do.

01 A recognizable signature

The COOKT logomark must work on its own and on pack.

02 Clear meal names

Every dish reads quickly at freezer distance.

03 Food with specificity

Ingredients, plate, light, and setting carry flavor and culture.

04 A coherent range

Each meal has a distinct color that reflects flavor profile and/or cultural elements.
